Description

1983 well-presented Tradition 30 with wheel steering. Aurora (previously Jessily) features a replaced 2013 Yanmar diesel engine with just 430 hours.

The Peter Cole design was extremely popular due to its amazing stability, volume for cruising and performance.

Perfect for offshore or inshore cruising short-handed.

This was one of the first hulls to sport a very full transom. This gives form stability as well as exceptional cockpit room.

Slipped for antifoul in May 2021. The owner also commissioned an out of water survey in March 2021 by Mark Humphries which is available on request.
